

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Writing Spot: We all turned out happy and healthy!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe events in the news in a range of social and work contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can say and use the sound spl.
- I can talk about friendship and relationships.
- I can use proper intonation in long statements.

Ask your partner:

- Who was your best friend when you were little?
- What did you use to do together?
- What did your parents think of your hobbies back then?

Let's Explore!

Sally's blog continues with George's story of what he and his friends did outside when they were kids.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: George, tell me more about what you and your friends did outside when you were a kid.

George: We had such a fun time after school and on the weekends. Typically, we would throw on some old clothes, ride our bikes down to the river and spend hours splashing around. It was such a splendid way to spend sunny afternoons.

Sometimes we would splurge on new comics, splay them out on the ground and recite the stories of each one. We loved acting out the different characters. I remember once, Teddy splattered some cola on my favorite comic. We made him take the bottle and drink up the whole thing there and then. I almost split my pants from laughter! I used to get splinters in my feet and hands from running around in the woods barefoot.

My mom caught on to what we were doing and told me off a few times. I think she secretly loved that we were so carefree and wild. I think we all turned out happy and healthy and I think that our childhood really contributed to that.

Let's Practice!

Tell me about the past!

Instructions: Read EACH word and phrase. Check your pronunciation with your instructor. Model a conversation with a partner.

- | | |
|-------------|--|
| 1. splash | 7. splay |
| 2. splatter | 8. We spend hours splashing around down at the river. |
| 3. splinter | 9. It was such a splendid way to spend sunny afternoons. |
| 4. splurge | 10. Sometimes we would splurge on new comics. |
| 5. split | 11. I used to get splinters in my hands and feet. |
| 6. splendid | |

Let's Practice!

Can you say these long sentences? Unscramble them first.

Instructions: Organize the mystery sentences. Practice saying them aloud with your partner. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. to / around / and / spend / would / the / splashing / some / hours / * / river / * / old / We / clothes, / ride / bikes / throw / on / down / our / .

2. * / the / on / on / new / splurge / one / the / * / and / recite / of / each / stories / ground / would / we / splay / comics / . / them / out / Sometimes

3. really / our / I / out / turned / think / to / * / and / and / healthy / contributed / . / think / happy / all / I / that / we / childhood / that

4. barefoot / feet / and / splinters / in / my / the / from / woods / to / around / get / used / in / * / hands / running / . / I

Extension Activity

Tell me about what you did outside when you were a kid.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Think back to when you were young.
What did you do for fun?
- Write down some ideas.
- Share your memories with your partner.
- Compare your childhood memories.

Self-Assessment

Yes No

I talk about friendship and relationships.

☐ ☐

I speak using long sentences with the correct intonation.

☐ ☐

I have a discussion with my partner about childhood memories.

☐ ☐

Target Words

- to throw on (verb): to quickly put on clothes
e.g. We would throw on some old clothes and spend hours splashing around in the river.
- to splatter (verb): to splash with sticky liquid
e.g. Teddy splattered some cola on my favorite comic.
- to drink up (verb): to quickly drink something e.g. We made him drink up the whole bottle of cola.
- to splurge (verb): to spend lots of money on something in particular e.g. Sometimes we would splurge on new comics.
- to splay (verb): to spread things out and apart
e.g. We used to splay comics out on the ground.
- splinter (noun): a thin piece of wood caught under the skin
Example: I used to get splinters in my hands and feet from running around in the woods barefoot.
- to catch on (verb): to become aware of something e.g. My mom caught on to what we were doing.
- to tell off (verb): to scold someone
e.g. My mom told me off a few times.
- to turn out (verb): to eventually become
e.g. We all turned out happy and healthy.

Learning Points

The Consonant Blend /spl/

In English pronunciation, it is common to pronounce consonant blends. These are a combination of two or more consonant sounds.

The consonant blend /spl/ has three sounds: s + p + l.

Try saying these three sounds together. Concentrate carefully on the position of your tongue, teeth and lips for each sound. Try to move smoothly between each sound so that they become one sound.

Practice saying these words:

splash

splendid

splay

split

display

It's a good idea to look in the mirror and watch your mouth as you make the sound.

Learning Points

Breaking Sentences into Parts

When you say a long sentence in English, you break it into distinct parts, each with its own intonation. You use the rise and fall of your voice to show the listener when you are or are not finished.

You break long sentences into parts, called clauses. Each clause has its own subject and verb (and sometimes object).

For example:

Typically, // we would throw on some old clothes, // ride our bikes down to the river // and spend hours splashing around. //

At the end of each clause, you use rising intonation to show the listener that the sentence is not finished.

Say these sentences. The bolded words should have rising intonation.

Sometimes we would splurge on new comics , splay them out on the ground and recite the stories of each one.

I think we all turned out happy and healthy and I think that our childhood really contributed to that.

I used to get splinters in my feet and hands from running around in the woods barefoot.

